International economics is concerned with the effects upon economic activity from international differences in productive resources and consumer preferences and the international institutions that affect them.

It seeks to explain the patterns and consequences of transactions and interactions between the inhabitants of different countries, including trade, investment and migration., The stated aim of the World Trade Organization (WTO) is to "ensure that trade flows as smoothly, predictably and freely as possible". However, it is important to note that the WTO does not claim to be a "free market" organization.According to the WTO, it is "sometimes described as a 'free trade' institution, but that is not entirely accurate., Professor Michael Woodfordâ€™s Cognitive and Behavioral Economics Initiative is one of several faculty led research initiatives.,
